Q: Is it possible to build signed apk in cordova on Huawei phones? I build an app in cordova and i generated a signed apk. The problem is, on Huawei devices (android 7.0 and 6.0) the application needs to wait until the application is loaded everytime. I was checking and debugging my app using a LG Nexus 5. From what i understand, it's because Huawei phones take a long time before they load the application. Is it possible to build an APK signed apk that can run on Huawei devices? A: I got it to work using the fast-lane build of cordova-lib (a cordova plugin which downloads some additional libraries to accelerate your cordova build) and signing the apk with "timestamp-verification" (Here is the answer from the fast-lane user: the format of the.apk file is preferred as of Apr 3, 2015 Version: 1 Content-Type: application/zip Size: 8561574 MD5: 8a9d9d2b11eee48e7657be2bbdb3b9b3 So you could simple add this to your build.gradle buildTypes { debug { ext.signingConfig = "your_path_to_your_signing_config.6d1f23a050
